Cell membranes are made of a phospholipid bilayer.

The hydrophobic tails face inward and the heads face water.

Membrane proteins move laterally in the fluid mosaic model.

Cholesterol changes membrane fluidity at different temperatures.